SUPERBAGS

Superbag is a revolutionary cloth for cooking. It is a porous filter made of an inert, flexible and heat-resistant material that is suitable for food use and adapts perfectly to different cooking containers. The Superbag is indicated for preparing consommés, preparing stocks and, in general, cooking large quantities of ingredients. In these processes, it reduces the amount of water that the cook must use and saves a lot of time, by not having to spend, for example, straining and clarifying consommés. They are an essential tool for the elaboration of the texture technique.
